Senate Ready To Put Thru Sales Taxes

Harrisburg (AP) — The Senate yesterday quickly advanced the 1 per cent sales tax for a final vote today.

There wasn't a word of debate on the 125 million dollar revenue-raising measure passed by the House last night to end a six months tax deadlock.

Sen. Rowland B. Mahany, Republican floor leader, renewed a confident prediction that the upper branch will send the tax bill to Gov. John S. Fine by nightfall today.

"We have more than enough of the necessary 26 votes for passage," he told a newsmen. "It's in the bag."

Senate Democrats, however, readied a series of amendments to the sales tax to specifically exempt farm, industrial and mining machinery. Mahany said these would be opposed on the grounds that they would reduce the sales tax revenue by 30 millions in the current biennium.

Sen. John H. Dent, Democratic floor leader, described the measure in its present form as "a greater deterrent" to expansion of industry "than any other tax at either the state or local level."

"I don't see the logic of taking away local taxation on machinery and putting a state tax on it," he told a reporter. "This is a real blow not only to farmers but to industry."

Dent referred to legislation now in the hands of Gov. John S. Fine which would ban real estate taxation on machinery in industrial plants in all counties except Philadelphia and Allegheny.

Dent said another Democratic amendment to be offered to the sales tax bill in the Senate today would seek to exempt religious items such as statues, medals and similar objects.

The sales levy now lists a host of exemptions, principally food, clothing, and professional services. At the same time, the Senate pushed for a final vote today to continue some 250 millions in existing taxes for another two years.

The package, already passed by the House, includes the 5 per cent corporate net income tax, postponing the manufacturer's exemption from the 5-mill capital stock tax for two years, the 14-mill gross receipts tax on public utilities, and the 6-mill gross receipts tax on bus and truck companies.

A final vote, however, was put off until next week on a House-passed Democratic plan to lay the ground for a graduated income tax in Pennsylvania.

House Passes Gas Storage Legislation

Harrisburg, (AP) — The House yesterday passed a bill to regulate underground storage of gas near a coal mine by a vote of 106 to 91.

The vote, which was only one above the constitutional requirement, sends the controversial measure to the Senate. The voting cut sharply across party lines.

The bill would require certification by the State Mines Department of all underground storage reservoirs under or within 2,000 feet of an active coal mine.

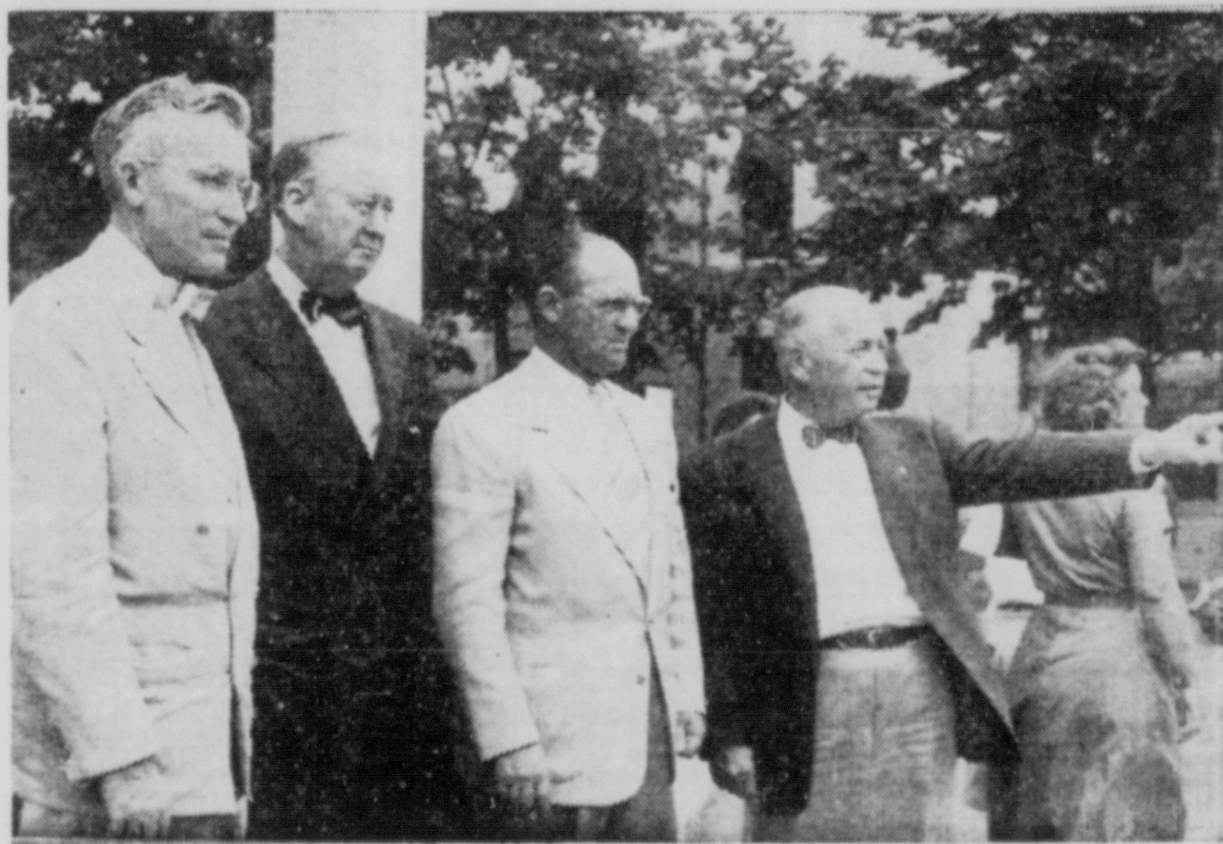

Rep. Robert F. Kent (R-Crawford), the bill's sponsor, told the House, "This is purely a safety measure to overcome a hazardous condition. It certainly is not an economic measure."

However, Rep. Edwin W. Tompkins (R-Cameron) charged during the nearly two hours of debate: "The coal companies here are attempting to prevent the extension of the gas industry in the interest of coal."

Volcanoes Blow Tops

Anchorage, Alaska (AP) — Three, and possibly four, volcanoes "blew their tops" across Cook Inlet yesterday and in mid-afternoon Anchorage was in pitch darkness, with fine ash like face powder sifting down over Alaska's largest city.

The peaks were identified by the Air Force as Mt. Spurr, 11,650 feet high, 78 miles west of Anchorage; Mt. Forbert, a 10,000-foot summit 30 miles west of Mt. Spurr, and an unidentified peak 4,500 feet high, four miles to the northwest of Mt. Spurr.

Matthews Resigns After Blast By Eisenhower For His Attacks On Clergy

Washington, (AP) — President Eisenhower yesterday solemnly accused J. B. Matthews, newly chosen right hand man to Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, of violating "principles of freedom and decency" in attacking Protestant clergymen and McCarthy quickly accepted Matthews' resignation.

The President joined a prominent group of churchmen in deploring Matthews' statements that thousands of Protestant ministers are Reds, fellow travelers or dupes of the Communists.

Matthews then announced that he had "reluctantly" accepted McCarthy's resignation from his $11,600 a year job as staff director of the Senate investigations subcommittee.

Matthews' action came as a surprise, since his subcommittee was to meet tomorrow morning to thrash out the Matthews case.

Eisenhower said Matthews' attack on the ministers, published in the July issue of American Mercury magazine, dealt "damage to our nation."

The President spoke out warmly and at some length in replying to a telegram from the three national co-chairmen of the Commission on Religious Organization of the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

"The sweeping attack on the loyalty of Protestant clergymen and the charge that they are the largest single group supporting the Communist apparatus is unjustifiable and deplorable," the religious leaders said.

And the President opened his reply with this statement: "I want you to know at once that I fully share the convictions you state."

The exchange of telegrams was made public by the White House.

Army Issues Call For 23,000 Men

Washington, (AP) — The Army yesterday issued a draft call for 23,000 men in September. The quota is the same as the ones previously announced for July and August.

The new call brings to 1,515,430 the total number drafted or earmarked for induction since selective service was resumed in September, 1950.

Except for 81,430 drafted for the Marine Corps in the 10 months ending May, 1952, all of the inductions have been by the Army.

Reed Fights Profit Tax Extension

Washington, (AP) — GOP leaders set the stage yesterday for final House action today on President Eisenhower's proposal to extend the excise profits tax while foes cried out against alleged White House dictatorship.

House leaders called an early session to act on the bill that has stirred one of the fiercest storms in Congress but now seems headed for quick, overwhelming passage.

A bill providing a straight six-month extension, to Jan. 1, comes up for a yes-or-no vote under procedure barring any amendments.

Thus efforts to tack on a personal income tax cut, or to soften the tax with various relief and exemption proposals, seemed doomed.

In a preview of the scheduled five-hour House debate, Chairman Daniel A. Reed (R-NY) and two other Republicans on the tax-writing ways and means committee filed a fiery protest yesterday.

They said the committee majority, in voting 16 to 9 Wednesday to report the bill favorably to the full House, was "following blindly an order from the executive branch of government."

Ike To Meet Governors

Washington, (AP) — President Eisenhower will fly to Texas today to meet with governors of drought affected states.

Shortly before 7:50 p. m. EST the White House announced the President has accepted the invitation of the governors of the drought affected states to meet with them at Amarillo, Tex.

The White House statement by Press Secretary James Hagerty follows:

"The President will fly to Amarillo tomorrow morning. He will be accompanied by the secretary of agriculture and the administrator of the Federal Civil Defense Administration. The governors attending the meeting will be those of the states of Arizona, Colorado, Kansas, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Texas. Sections of these states already have been declared disaster areas.

"Eight million dollars has already been allocated from federal emergency funds.

"In accepting the invitation of the governors the President specifically requested the chief executives of the six states to forego any plans for official or public reception while the President is in Amarillo.

Shoot German On Border

Berlin, Friday (AP) — East Berlin Communist Police early yesterday shot down a West Berliner on the newly reopened East-West border.

They said he had tried to talk them into deserting to the West, and they admitted that a small riot broke-out as a result of the shooting.

West German police said the 20-year-old victim, whose name was not given, was shot twice in the arm by Red police across the border. They said he was a refugee from the Soviet zone.

Expert Starts Stroudsburg Traffic Study

A survey to determine ways of eliminating Stroudsburg's traffic bottleneck was started yesterday by J. Edward Johnston, manager of traffic engineering for the American Automobile Association.

Johnston arrived in Stroudsburg from his Washington, D. C. headquarters on the summons of Pocono Mountains Motor Club, who voted unanimously recently to find a way of alleviating the traffic congestion.

Meeting at the Penn-Stroud Hotel were motor club representatives and delegates from the newly organized Club Court-Bryant St. group of property owners who have protested the so-called "favored plan" of E. L. Schmidt, State Secretary of Highways, to by-pass the main intersection by building a new road through their district, ending on N. 9th St.

J. L. Kerlin, member of Stroudsburg Merchants Association which has voiced the opinion the borough should be by-passed by Route 611, read a letter from Schmidt at the meeting opened. The letter stated no definite plan has been made and that future surveys will determine the route of travel.

Leroy Dengler, president of Pocono Mountains Motor Club presided at the session in which Johnston was queried on various phases of traffic engineering by the group represented.

Also discussed was the feasibility of parallel parking on Stroudsburg's Main Street, rather than the diagonal system now in use.

After the meeting Johnston traveled with the group to Delaware Water Gap to inspect the new bridge and was acquainted with the proposals which will bring traffic into Route 611. He then was shown the present route of travel and inspected the "favored" route as suggested by Highway Secretary Schmidt and alternate routes including some which would go through the borough.

Johnston will tour the entire Stroudsburg environs this morning, noting traffic conditions, and will return to Washington after 12 noon. It is anticipated he will review the problem and make recommendations to the Motor Club here later. It was not indicated, however, how long it will be before his recommendations are made known.

Attending the session were Dengler, G. P. O'Neill, Elwood Huffman, Edward C. Jenkins, and Mrs. John Watts, all representing the Motor Club; J. Albert Groner, H. A. Rockefeller, Robert Eastwick and Edward C. Hess, for the Club Court-Bryant Street group and Kerlin, of the Merchants Association.

The news also coincides with the presence in the Soviet Union of top Russian authorities from rebellious East Germany and of the Soviet Union's top diplomats recalled from Western capitals for consultation.

There have been many reports of fights in the Kremlin for supreme power between Beria and Malenkov. These were heightened two weeks ago when Beria failed to show up for a gala ballet performance attended by both Malenkov and Molotov.

McCarthy Claims CIA Blocks His Investigations

Washington, (AP) — Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) charged on the Senate floor yesterday that the hush-hush Central Intelligence Agency was blocking him from an investigation of a key CIA official he said contributed $400 to the Alger Hiss defense fund.

McCarthy named Allen Dulles, CIA chief and a brother of Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, as the prime obstacle holding up an inquiry by his Senate investigations subcommittee.

The Wisconsin senator asserted that William B. Bundy, a top aide to Allen Dulles and son-in-law of former Secretary of State Dean Acheson, made a $100 contribution to the Hiss fund.

Spot Check Shows Merchants Do Not Favor Sales Tax; All Against Mercantile Tax

A spot-check of merchants in the Stroudsburgs showed none favored the sales tax passed Wednesday night by the House in Harrisburg.

Here's what a few of them said: Jack L. Kerlin, secretary of the Wyckoff Store, Stroudsburg, said he believed all merchants were against the tax and added that they had wired Representative Shotwell to that effect earlier. (Shotwell voted for the tax).

"We were for economy in government, but apparently they could not arrive at such a thing," Kerlin said. He went on, "We were dead against a mercantile levy which would have been a hidden tax, but if there had to be a broad-based tax it's better to have it out in the open."

"Now the public will know about it," he said. "We think Harrisburg can get along, with some of the Chesterman economies which were recommended, but they don't seem to think so. They didn't pass any of them."

Secret Police Chief Blasted By Malenkov

London, Friday (AP) — Moscow radio announced today that Lavrenti P. Beria, one of the Kremlin's big three since the death of Stalin, has been fired as chief of the secret police and is being held for trial as a traitor.

The broadcast said the action was taken after a recent review by the Communist party of "criminal and anti-state activities" by Beria in the interests of "foreign capital."

The radio said Sergei Nikiforovich Kruglov has been appointed to succeed Beria as minister of home affairs which controls the secret police.

Kruglov has been minister of internal affairs, a top job, but was little known outside the Soviet Union.

He was in charge of security precautions in 1945 when President Truman, Stalin and Prime Minister Atee met at Potsdam.

Last October Kruglov was named to the new Central Committee of the Soviet Communist party.

The broadcast said Beria was sacked as "an enemy of the party and the Soviet people."

The announcement was credited to the official Soviet news agency Tass and was in the form of an official communique from the Central Committee of the Soviet Communist party.

Beria has been one of the three ruling Russia since Stalin died. The other two are Premier Georgi Malenkov and Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov.

The announcement that Beria, security chief for the Soviet Union and largely responsible for keeping order in the satellites, was fired came as news of smoldering revolt spread through all the satellites.

The news also coincides with the presence in the Soviet Union of top Russian authorities from rebellious East Germany and of the Soviet Union's top diplomats recalled from Western capitals for consultation.

There have been many reports of fights in the Kremlin for supreme power between Beria and Malenkov. These were heightened two weeks ago when Beria failed to show up for a gala ballet performance attended by both Malenkov and Molotov.

The purge of the bespectacled mild-mannered secret police chief was foreshadowed Monday by an article in the government newspaper Izvestia which said a Soviet leader who didn't pay proper attention to theory had his days numbered.

The paper called no names, but it now appears that Beria was meant.

The radio broadcast said the decision to drop Beria from the Communist party which almost certainly means his finish as a government power was taken after a recent Central Committee meeting where Beria reported on the recent disorders in East Berlin.

Driver Is Arrested

Harrisburg (AP) — Francis J. Garoff, driver of a Greyhound bus that crashed into a parked truck on the Pennsylvania Turnpike and killed five women passengers, was charged with involuntary manslaughter yesterday.

Negotiators To Meet Today For Further Session

Panmunjom, Friday (AP) — Allied and Communist truce delegates met here today to work out final agreement on an armistice in the three-year Korean War despite South Korea's opposition.

The negotiators met promptly in the conference hut where they have talked of armistice for two years.

They adjourned after 29 minutes until 11 a.m. Saturday (9 p.m., EST, Friday). The session was the first full-dress meeting in 20 days.

It was termed an executive session, which meant the results probably would not be made public.

But the issues were well known.

The main one was whether the United Nations could make South Korea and its vitriolic President Syngman Rhee abide by truce terms already negotiated.

Rhee insists that Korea must be united soon, by force if necessary.

The truce agreement proposes only a political conference to discuss the Korean problem. It does not insist that Korea must be united. Rhee does.

Another problem was whether the U. N. Command could recover the 27,000 North Korean prisoners of war released by Rhee. Their disposition is provided for in the truce draft but they now are at large among the South Korean population.

President Syngman Rhee, reported to have been handed a secret letter yesterday by Gen. Mark Clark, apparently continued holding his line against United Nations cease-fire plans. The Republic of Korea President says a truce without Korea unification would mean death to South Korea, unless the U. S. provides certain safeguards.

A highly placed ROK source last night told Associated Press Newsmen Bill Shinn that talks between Rhee and U. S. Special Envoy Walter S. Robertson "remain stalemate." Rhee and Robertson have been secretly conferring 15 days.

"President Rhee still is insisting that South Korea must have from America concrete assurances that Korea will be unified, peacefully or otherwise," the ROK source told Shinn.

"That is the President's first requirement and the one which has not been met by America." He said that Rhee was holding out against an armistice despite American offers of a military security pact, "substantial" economic aid and four more ROK troop divisions to supplement the present ROK Army of 16 divisions.

President Eisenhower, in urging Rhee to accept the truce, has told the South Korean President he would work for unification of Korea through peaceful means, and also would try to get U. S. Senate ratification of a mutual security pact.

Gen. Clark, U. N. commander in the Far East, flew from Tokyo Thursday and joined Robertson in a 22-minute secret conference with Rhee. Clark also held a lengthy session with the chief U. N. truce delegate, Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison, before flying back to Tokyo.

South Korean sources said Clark handed Rhee a letter, but its contents were not revealed immediately.

An American Embassy spokesman at Seoul said last night Robertson denied "in the most emphatic terms" reports that the U. S. had delivered Rhee an ultimatum demanding his acceptance of American terms.

The embassy spokesman did not disclose the source of the reports.

Firemen Called

East Stroudsburg firemen made a dry run last night when an alarm sounded about 10:30 p. m. Cause of the alarm was not determined last night but a faulty wiring circuit was suspected.

Britain Asks For Meeting With Russians

Washington, (AP) — Britain's acting foreign secretary, the Marquis of Salisbury, arrived yesterday for the Big Three foreign ministers' conference and promptly gave notice his government wants a meeting with Russia's Premier Malenkov this year.

"We're in favor of four-power talks but the timing is a matter for discussion," he told a throng of reporters at the airport.

He said Britain's ailing Prime Minister Churchill is "improving daily" from his illness and should be able to attend four-power talks this year.

Salisbury's forthright remarks made it clear that the subject of a top-level cold war meeting with Russia would figure in the American-British-French strategy talks which open tomorrow at the State Department.

President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles are known to be far less enthusiastic about meeting the Russians across a conference table until Moscow demonstrates by "deeds" it is ready to change its past aggressive policies.

Dulles, who joined British Commonwealth diplomats in greeting Salisbury at the airport, sought to play down differences with the British on how to deal with Russia.

In his welcoming remarks, the American secretary avoided any mention of a Big Four meeting and said he hoped the foreign ministers' talks would iron out "what little differences there are" between Britain and the United States.

Dulles Asks New Foreign Aid Funds

Washington, (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles, urging Congress to approve five billion dollars in new funds for foreign aid, said yesterday the threat of Soviet aggression may last another decade.

Dulles joined with Harold E. Stassen, mutual security director, in testimony before the Senate Appropriations Committee.

Stassen told the senators he believes the United States will have to continue foreign aid for 10 years, including military help to some of this country's free world allies. Economic aid probably can be shut off sooner, he said.

Sen. Robertson (D-Va.) told Stassen he has supported the multi-billion-dollar foreign aid programs since 1948, but he said emphatically:

"I didn't intend for it to be something that would last forever or that would imperil the soundness of our own economy."

Windsor's Love Casts Shadow Over Margaret's

London, (AP) — Shadows of the Duke of Windsor's love for an American divorcee fell yesterday over the reported romance of Princess Margaret with a dashing RAF officer who divorced his wife.

Britons, who were long kept in the dark about Windsor's romance with Wallis Simpson that finally cost him his throne, are openly debating his 22-year-old niece's right to marry the man reported to be her choice.

Margaret is third in line for the throne.

The fortnightly left-wing magazine, Tribune, which seldom misses a chance to attack Prime Minister Winston Churchill, said yesterday the Cabinet had been approached on whether Margaret should marry RAF Group Captain Peter Townsend and had said "no." The Tribune denounced the action as "cowardly."

Baumgartner Veterans Ag Instructor

William Baumgartner, Kunkle-town RD., has been appointed "Veterans agriculture" instructor for Monroe county.

Election of the West End man to fill the veterans administration post was confirmed at this month's meeting of the Monroe County Board of School Directors.

Baumgartner is owner and operator of a farm in Polk township. He is a graduate of Pennsylvania State College and has been certified for vocational agriculture teaching positions.

County school directors also drafted a resolution expressing sympathy on the death of Howard S. Eckert, East Stroudsburg school board member and treasurer of the county board at the time of his death.

Copies of the resolution were ordered sent to Mrs. Eckert, the East Stroudsburg school board and the Pennsylvania State School Directors Association. Mr. Eckert had been active in school board for 20 years prior to his death.

Haiden Murphy, Chestnut Hill, was elected treasurer of the county board, filling the vacancy left by Mr. Eckert's death.

School budgets for 1953-54 which have been received by the county board were approved at the July meeting. Those districts receiving approval were Delaware, Water-

Gap, East Stroudsburg, Mount Po-

hamilton, Middle Smithfield, Para-

disse, Pocono, Ross, Smithfield,

Stroud and Tunkhannock. Individual school districts were also

Transportation contracts from approved by the board.

Blood Of Life

The nation is watching with intense interest and great hope as Montgomery, Ala., health authorities undertake the first mass use of gamma globulin to prevent further spread of what already is a high incidence of infantile paralysis.

The government has made available enough of the paralysis-resisting serum to inoculate 30,000 children in the Southern city. The results will be brought into national focus as soon as the injections and tests have been completed.

It takes a vast amount of blood to produce enough of the serum to treat children just in Montgomery. And there are other areas which are reported by the United States Health Service to be experiencing a sharp upturn in polio cases over the same period a year ago. When we consider that the number of cases in the nation in 1953 reached an all-time high we realize more than ever the urgency for blood donations to increase the stockpile of gamma globulin.

To treat one child it takes seven cubic centimeters of GG, the amount of blood fraction which can be extracted from an average 500 C.C. donation. Thus, in Alabama's city alone 210,000 cubic centimeters of GG will be used out of a national stockpile that is by no means adequate to meet demands if polio attacks heavily during this summer season.

The urgency for blood donations is clear and imperative. The local Red Cross chapter is serving an important and vital role in the GG program. It needs your help to meet its high quotas.

Gullible 'Liberals'

Despite all the unmasking that has taken place, our "liberal" intellectuals do not seem much deterred from playing the Communist propaganda game, as witnessed by the latest furore over 'book burning'.

Thanks to misleading but widespread propaganda, the impression has gained ground that there is an issue of "book burning" confronting the American people. A great national organization of educators has taken a solemn stand on this issue, affirming the right of all Americans to read and think what they please.

Now, who has said "nay"? Who has suggested that the lists of books in libraries and schools be censored?

Actually, the question is limited to a small number of information libraries maintained by our State Department in foreign countries as a means of imparting pro-American information to foreigners. It has been discovered that there has been pro-Communist infiltration in these information libraries, and that deceptive, anti-American books have been issued to foreigners seeking information on the American scene.

This limited issue has been expanded and distorted to give the impression that there is a serious assault in freedom of information in the United States, and, astonishingly, some of the country's leading spokesmen have played into the hands of the Communist propagandists.

Are we to believe that our intellectual elite are really incapable of making a simple distinction between freedom of information for the American people and propaganda material in information libraries abroad?

The Once Over —by H. I. Phillips

Portrait By The Kremlin

Moscow, which came up with a word tale of starving Americans creeping to our water-fronts and begging for crumbs from Russian ships, has pulled another one. It describes Broadway as a place of infamous goings-on, says dozens of prostitutes fill it and pictures the theater as corruptly decadent with the performers forced to give out the pay by taking outside jobs as garbage collectors, cab drivers and waiters, and finally forced to end their lives as Broadway derelicts.

We had better watch these visiting writers from the U. S. S. R. before they discover how awful the situation really is. (Mary Martin working in an East Side sweatshop between musicals, Ethel Merman forced to do housework on a Gossamer Canal barge and all these young dramatic stars forced to quit the theater and TV panels in order to fight the pigeons for crumbs and birdseed in Times Square.)

Pravda may report any day now that the big electric signs over Broadway advertise opium and hashish, that every movie house has a snare pit in the lobby and that those delicate stars and jewelry auctioneers are really blind for smugglers and moving crap-games. (Ivory, we hear, has found that the Winter Garden is a detention camp. Rosy's a dog track and that Madison Square Garden has been taken over for flea circuses.)

But it is still our secret that the Metropolitan Opera is run by Frank Costello, that the subway booths are operated by white slavers and that the statue of Father Duffy has been swapped for one of Lee and Jake Shubert who shot Irving Berlin during the Haymarket riots over the question of whether Equity should control female wrestlers.

Harry Truman is tooling home after a week in New York at the Waldorf Astoria where mad tables come by the gross and where a waiter, informed "That's Harry Truman over there," replied, "You take him. I'm busy with Napoleon Bonaparte who says his eggs were hatched."

Harry's Gaiety stay was pretty uneventful. We had hoped he would throw a party up there in the towers and that his neighbors, General Douglas MacArthur and Herb Hoover, would rap on the door and demand quiet. We would like to know how ex-President Truman behaves at the

Robert S. Allen Reports
Taber Creates Logjam To Force Senate To Cut Money

Washington — Add a few wrangle to the many already plaguing this turbulent Congress.

The latest clash is between the august Senate and Representative John Taber, budget-slashing chairman of the House Appropriations Committee.

With the full backing of House Republican leaders, the 33-year-old upstate New Yorker, who is serving his 20th consecutive year in Congress, is staging a militant sitdown against the Senate to force it to drop more than $100,000,000 in increases in six major appropriation bills.

Most of the additional funds voted by the Senate were recommended by President Eisenhower.

All of the six big appropriation measures have gone through both the House and Senate, several of them as far back as May. Under the rules, each bill, immediately upon passage by the Senate, should have gone to conference to iron out differences between the two chambers. Senator Styles Bridges (R., N. H.), chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee, promptly designated conference and requested Taber to do the same so there would be no further delay on this already overdue fiscal legislation.

These measures should have been enacted by July 1, start of the fiscal year.

Taber has not named a single conferee. He has deliberately created a logjam on these vital bills in an effort to compel the Senate to back down on its increases, which Taber vehemently opposes.

Playing into his hand in this backstage strategy is the announced aim of congressional leaders to wind up the session by August 1. Taber figures that in the rush and pressure to adjourn, he can bludgeon the Senate into accepting the budget measures that his Committee originally drafted.

The six deadlocked measures are as follows:

House Senate
State, Justice and Commerce Department: $1,103,880,282, $1,133,145,712
Health, Education, Welfare, and Labor Department: $1,080,706,151, $2,008,435,761
Agriculture Department: $712,747,828, $716,779,768
Interior Department: $406,130,343, $452,956,910
First Independent Offices, including Federal Power Commission, Trade Commission, and Interstate Commerce Commission: $446,913,949, $451,020,193
Civil Functions, including rivers and harbors funds, and highways: $416,791,000, $473,762,500

Old trick—Taber's strategy is not new. It's an old story in Senate and House feuding over budget legislation.

George Sokolsky Says...

Administration of Government Suffers From Insubordination of Job Holders

Is This A Government?

The following letter was sent as a circular to a large number of persons and is a direct attack on the fiscal policies and administrative directives of President Eisenhower.

The question it raises is whether the authority of government is vested in the elected officers of the nation, who function in accordance with the Constitution, or whether an appointive bureaucracy may sabotage the government, use official stationery and the franking privilege in the mails to create a public sentiment against the authorities. The further question is raised in this letter as to whether budgetary appropriations are to be made by Congress, as the Constitution provides, or by appointed officials to suit their desires and convenience.

I give the circular letter in full:

Department of State
International Claims Commission of the United States
Washington
June 25, 1953
Dear Sir or Madam:

This letter (addressed to claimants, their attorneys and Members of Congress) is to advise that due to the neglect, failure and refusal of the Administration to authorize the submission of a budget request for the fiscal year commencing July 1, 1953, the Commission will be without funds, commencing on that date and, accordingly, will be unable to exercise its functions as required by law. Since all members of the staff of the Commission are being separated as of June 30, 1953, due to lack of funds, this letter will serve as a cancellation of previous notices of hearings pending before the Commission and scheduled on or after July 1, 1953. No further action at this time can be taken by the Commission with respect to claims filed under the Yugoslav and Panama claims settlements. Nor can the Commission advise as to the action which may be taken with respect to the reverter rights of these Governments in the funds under its jurisdiction.

This Commission was established by law (Public Law 455, 81st Congress) in the Department of State as a quasi-judicial independent tribunal to adjudicate claims and its decisions are final with no appeal to the Secretary of State or to the courts. Its members may be removed by the Secretary of State only for cause after notice and hearing. On June 9 and 10, 1953 the resignations of the members of the Commission were requested by responsible officials of the Department of State and of the Office of the President.

Failing in their efforts to force the resignations of the Commissioners the Administration is now withholding from Congress a budget request in order to deprive the Commission of funds with which to operate during the next fiscal year beginning July 1, 1953. The action of the Administration in withholding this budget request is an unwarranted interference with quasi-judicial function of this Commission, and is an attempt to force resignations of its members.

Sincerely yours,
JOSIAH MARVEL, JR.,
Chairman

Bystanders

Actors back from Rome relay the typically Italian last word on the high drama of Mussolini's end. Count Sforza, the Duce's implacable enemy, was listening to an eye-witness account of the way Benito and his Mistress were shot and then left to hang by their ankles.

Sforza, the old anti-Fascist, shrugged: "Twenty years from now it will be Grand Opera!"

Headline: "Tighter Grip by Peron Seen in Argentina"

Rosie, send this boy that photo of B. Duce hanging upside down.

Item: "Polly Adler's Autobiography of her former house of ill repute is a lively book."

Very Gentlering.

At Theodore's a team of struggling songwriters were telling their woes to the producer of "Wonderful Town."

"What I'd like to know," waited one, "is what have Rodgers & Hammerstein got that we ain't?"

"Well, for one thing," was the reply, "each other!"

Headline: "British Friendly, Russians Say"

They kin say that again!

At Major's Cabin veteran producer John Golden was asked: "What is a shoestring production?"

"Something," he said, "the critics always give a good facing."

At the Wivel some newsmen were talking about the late Steve Hannagan and one recalled the time Steve was asked: "Just what is a publicity consultant?"

"Someone," sighed Steve, "who is called in at the last minute to share the blame."

The day after FDR's death the members of Truman's personal entourage were busy moving into the White House offices.

The big reception room at the entrance to the Executive Wing was filled with people, including many of the press. As Harry Vaughan came from the new President's office, he alienated FDR's well-wishers by sarcastically cracking: "After 12 years of caviar, it will be nice to have some ham and eggs around here."

Eight years later we discovered what the "S" in H. S. Truman's name stands for: So What.

Isn't it a relief to have a President yelling "Fore!" instead of "Red Herring?"

At a pre-examination in a libel suit, the counsel for the plaintiff asked a columnist: "Do you call what you print news or gossip?"

"Gossip," said our Hero, whose office wall reminders include Oscar Wilde's line: "Journalism is organized gossip."

Lesson in journalism to all students aspiring to be newspapermen: Here is a concrete example of what is called slanted or careless reporting. This does not mean the reporter omitted the missing dialogue. The missing portion might have been dropped either accidentally or on purpose by some editor or other staffer who (1) might be a pro-Communist; (2) a pro-Fascist; (3) a Republican; (4) a Democrat; or (5) someone who just doesn't like you at all.

Yesterday's N. Y. Times, in covering the examination before trial of this column, twice made it appear that Winchell had testified that he had never called Wechsler a Communist. The reader would have to assume that Winchell said: "Who me? I never called him a Communist!" When the fact is that Winchell replied: "I didn't call him a Communist. He called himself that. I was merely quoting what he swore to under oath at a trial in which he was being sued for libel."

Looking At Life —by Erich Brandeis

It seems that the best way to get a lot of publicity is by issuing Ten Rules on almost any old subject.

The latest "ten rules" came from a Brooklyn Hospital published a set of such rules for fathers: "How to go from Father's Day to Father's Day."

Father's Day was the title, and it told how to keep alive from one June 21st to the next.

Just in case it interests you, some of the rules were to keep slim, not to eat fats, to exercise moderately, to relax, not to indulge in liquor, not to chain-smoke and to see your doctor at least once a year.

All these rules are good and most of the other ten-rule sets are good.

Usually they come in tens, probably because it all started with the Ten Commandments.

These are ten-rule sets for success, for happiness, for marriage, for driving, for dressing, for gardening, for almost anything under the sun.

Personally, I have found that the best ten rules of them all ARE the Ten Commandments.

If we lived up to them we would not need any other rules for living.

Take the Commandment, "Thou shalt have no other gods before me."

That alone would eliminate most of our troubles.

If you make money your god, or success or food or golf or speed, you are bound to end up in sickness or ill fortune.

"Thou shalt not kill." "Thou shalt not commit adultery." "Thou shalt not seal." "Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor."

Think of these for a moment.

The wonderful thing about religion is not alone that it is so Godly, but that it is so full of common sense.

The Compost (and Wechsler's lawyers) made a big thing of Wechsler's "anti-Commy" articles directed at former comrades in the Newspaper Guild Reporter as far back as '39. And the Compost flagwaved: "We are suing Winchell for saying we followed the Communist Party Line."

But we don't say they did. We say Mr. Wechsler admitted under oath: "Yes, the Post followed the Communist Party Line."

Rotary Names Committee To Study Borough Traffic By-Pass

Group Will Report To Club Meeting

A committee to investigate the by-passing of Stroudsburg borough by Route 611 was named yesterday by the Rotary Club board of directors after their luncheon meeting at Penn-Stroud Hotel.

Appointed to study the problems and report to the general meeting are Dr. Edward McGuire, chairman, C. R. Barhight and Robert Logan.

Naming of this group marked the second service organization in the Stroudsburgs to review the traffic problem. Stroudsburg Kiwanis Club adopted a resolution Wednesday calling for a by-pass.

Jesse Flory, Rotary Club president, directed the business meeting. J. Albert Groner was program chairman and presented Walter S. Peeney, past district governor who spoke on his recent experiences in Paris where he attended the Rotary International convention.

Peeney flew to Paris representing 26 Rotary Clubs in the district. He reported the convention, attended by 10,000 in a huge arena, was the largest held outside the United States.

Commenting on Rotary's activity, he explained the function of the Council of Legislation who make recommendations for future adoption by the entire assembly of delegates.

One point Peeney emphasized was the discussion that Rotary Clubs lacked publicity in many cities. He reported the ultimate answer to this problem was "A good Rotary Club will make news" and explained that newspapers are willing to publish meetings provided they contain newsworthy content.

He also reviewed his tour of Paris; his visit to the Pakistan Embassy there as guest of the nation's premier; and told of his brief visit in Shannon, Ireland where the plane was forced to turn back en route home.

DPA Personnel Coordinated With CD Group

Coordination of Department of Public Assistance county personnel and Civil Defense welfare workers under a program established by the State, has the backing of Monroe County's two headquarters who are prepared to launch classes in the fall.

Mrs. Jack Manchester and Miss Julia Nyce, senior visitor for the county DPA underwent a two-day indoctrination for the State project at Ogontz Center, near Philadelphia, and will embark on an educational program in September, it was disclosed last night.

Richard Gerstell, State director of Civil Defense, disclosed simultaneously the final step in bringing both DPA and CD welfare workers together has been solved. He said the groups will administer help to the needy on both an emergency basis and a continuing "long-term" program. The dual project will become effective upon proclamation by the President of the United States, or the Governor of Pennsylvania, Gerstell said.

Working in collaboration with Paul Crawn, executive director of Monroe County's civil defense program, the two DPA representatives will set up a system whereby all persons entering the county after a disaster will be registered, and inquires into their conditions completed.

Special training courses will be held in all sections of the county. Mrs. Manchester, no longer connected with the DPA as a senior visitor, volunteered on her resignation April 1 to continue the CD planning with Miss Nyce, it was reported by C. B. Altmeppen, director of the county DPA office.

Working together, the DPA and Civil Defense welfare services are expected to perfect plans for establishing and operating a local emergency welfare service, and will develop the registration and inquiry service.

The third objective, an emergency financial assistance program extending beyond the mass care centers, which are established as soon as possible after a disaster, was worked out over a period of months.

Dr. Gerstell hailed the completion as "An example of excellent planning as both the law and common sense dictate; this further coordination is a case of expanding and adapting existing facilities."

Instructions sent to 67 County Boards of Assistance outline the two types of Civil Defense assistance which are the responsibility of the Department of Public Assistance.

The phases include immediate assistance following an emergency or mass care center period, and is authorized for a period varying from 48 hours to two weeks. The second step is extended assistance, which authorizes eligible applicants whose needs, resulting from enemy action, will continue for an indefinite period.

Dr. Gerstell concluded "The complete coordination of trained personnel of DPA and Civil Defense is designed to cut through all red tape and provide not only immediate shelter, food, clothing and medical care for victims of an enemy attack, but also extended assistance when necessary."

Waring Enterprises To Seek Injunction Against Picketing By Local Union

An injunction against picketing by a Stroudsburg union local has been asked by Waring Enterprises Inc., Delaware Water Gap.

The complaint in equity was filed at the prothonotary's office in the court house. It lists as one defendant the Building and Construction Trades Council, AFL, Stroudsburg local.

Other defendants listed are Thomas R. Joyce, local council president, Ralph D. Paul, vice-president, both of Stroudsburg; James Robert, East Stroudsburg, secretary; and Harold E. Felker, described as a paid picket whose address was unknown.

Hearing on the request for preliminary injunction will be at 10 a.m. Monday at the courthouse before President Judge Fred W. Davis.

Judge Davis issued an order that the union men appear to show why the preliminary injunction should not be issued until a final hearing is held.

The complaint, filed by Harold C. Edwards, Stroudsburg attorney, was signed by him and J. L. Cohan, company treasurer.

The complaint in part alleges: that there is no contract between the company and the union; that no labor dispute exists between the company and any of its employees; and that no strike has been called by any employees.

On July 3, the complaint says, Felker appeared on the sidewalk in front of the company's building (The old Castle Inn) in Delaware Water Gap and started picketing with a sign bearing the union's name.

Recently, the complaint went on, the words "unfair to labor" had been added to the sign.

Felker told truck drivers delivering food and other supplies that Waring Enterprises was unfair to labor, the complaint continues, and interfered with and hindered deliveries—and in some instances prevented deliveries to the company.

The petition, after reciting the grievances, asks that: The union be restrained from interfering with company business, picketing, loitering around the entrances and exits, interfering with delivery of supplies, and that after final hearing, damages be awarded to Waring's Company.

1,599 Food Handlers Are X-Rayed Here

The total of food handlers who have had chest X-rays this week rose yesterday to 1,599.

At Pocono Manor the technicians in the State-owned mobile unit X-rayed 181. At Pocono Crest, Pocono Pines, they snapped another 104, bringing the day's total to 285.

Today the unit will be at Camp Taminent, Pike County, 9:30 to 11:30 a.m.; Unity House at Forest Park, Pike County, 2 to 4 p.m.; and Middle Smithfield Township High School, 8 to 9:30 p.m.

Saturday the unit will offer free X-rays for the last time—in front of the Wyckoff Store on Main St., Stroudsburg. Members of the public who are not food handlers, as well as food handlers who have missed their X-rays, are invited to have the free X-ray taken.

Confident Park Honoring Edison Will Be Created

An optimistic note that a national park may be established in the Delaware Water Gap area was sounded yesterday afternoon by Walter Von Brook, booster for the project, as U. S. Department of Interior staff members and representatives of the Thomas Alva Edison Foundation concluded a two-day tour here.

Von Brook commented that the plan which he has advocated for years may become a reality, since the visiting officials seemed impressed by what they saw on their trips.

The Lake Mohawk, N. J., resident and former Penn-Stroud Hotel owner was assisted by J. H. Kunkle, president of Pocono Forestry Association in conducting the tour of the Gap, Cherry Valley, Appalachian Trail over the Blue Ridge.

honor of one of America's most famous inventors. Von Brook represents the Thomas A. Edison Producers, an association of former employees of Edison and his sons. Participating in the two-day conference and tours were Von Brook, Kunkle, Vice Admiral Harold G. Bowen, executive director of the Foundation, Paul Bussy, his assistant; William Annetman, national park planning chief for the Department of Interior; Wilbur L. Savage, national forester, and Frank Barnes, national park historian.

Ennis Davis To Be Honored At Services

In simple services this afternoon, a wing of the Wartime Music Workshop dormitory at Castle Inn will be dedicated to the memory of Ennis Davis.

Davis was one of the founders of the workshop. He died this year. Students now attending classes at the workshop will join in the ceremony by singing "One Little Candle" and "You'll Never Walk Alone."

The dedication will take place at 2:30 p.m. with Fred Waring narrating the tribute to Davis.

Deaths from tuberculosis in Great Britain dropped from 23,600 in 1947 to 14,000 in 1952.

VFW Adopts Resolution To Outlaw Communists

Philadelphia, Pa. The Pennsylvania Veterans of Foreign Wars yesterday adopted a resolution urging Congress to "completely outlaw" the Communist party.

"The VFW opened its 34th annual encampment this morning. In another hotel, several blocks away, the VFW ladies' auxiliary is holding its sessions. Some 25,000 persons are here for the three-day meetings.

The anti-Communist resolution was presented to the delegates by State Supreme Court Justice Michael A. Musmanno, of Pittsburgh. Musmanno, who is chairman of the VFW Americanism Committee, called for a 20-year prison term for anyone found guilty of being affiliated with the Communist party.

"The Communist party is one," Musmanno declared. "It is international. It is one integrated hand of conspirators, revolutionaries and assassins. It is because the Com-introduced a resolution—which won unanimous approval—urging a federal law that would permit ex-presidents of the United States to become an ex-officio member of the U. S. Senate "with the right to participate in all debates and serve on all committees without vote."

McGarry Will Receive State Scholarship

John Joseph McGarry, son of Dr. and Mrs. Francis McGarry, 144 Analomink St., East Stroudsburg, will be recipient of the State scholarship offered in this area.

McGarry, who placed second in the county-wide examinations, will receive the scholarship as a result of the refusal of M. Michael Sharlot, first place winner, to accept the assistance.

Sharlot declined the honor because he will attend an out-of-state university (Antioch College in Ohio). The scholarship can be used only in State schools.

Manhattan Stock Company Opens Sixth Season Here

The Manhattan Stock Company opens its sixth season this week with J. B. Priestley's mystery melodrama, "Dangerous Corner."

As in the past, the stock company will play three days (Thursday, Friday and Saturday) at the Milford Theater in Milford, followed by a two-day engagement at the Haultberg Playhouse in Newfoundland, on Monday and Tuesday.

Second production on the list for this season will be S. N. Behrman's comedy, "The Second Man" with "Accent On Youth" taking over third spot on the season's bill.

Producer-director of the stock company is John McCabe who attended the University of Manchester's Shakespeare Memorial Theater school at Stratford-on-Avon this year and received a master's degree after two years of study there.

He formerly was dramatics teacher at Wayne University in Detroit, Mich.

Curtain-time for each production (at either theater) is 8:30 daylight time. Stock theater was first introduced to the Pocono Mountains region in 1926 by Charles Haultberg, owner-manager of both the Milford and Haultberg theaters.

CENTER OF INTEREST at the speaker's table at last night's banquet of the State Congress of Parents and Teachers training session at the college dining room last night were, left to right, Dr. Joseph Noonan, college president; Mrs. J. Parent-Teacher Delegates Hear Talk On Korea By Former Head Of PTA There Syngman Rhee, the president of Korea, whom they are now terming "a stubborn old man," was termed anything but that by the speaker at last night's banquet of the 1953 Leadership Training Sessions of the Pennsylvania Congress of Parents and Teachers now in session at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College.

To Mrs. J. Harold Berrean, of Danville, Pa., who was president of the Parent Teachers Association of the Seoul Foreign School in Korea from 1948 until 1950, he was the man who came down in his dressing gown on Christmas Eve after his election to join a bus load of Americans singing Christmas carols through Seoul.

To her, he was the man, who after his election as president, solved the sanitation problems of Seoul, which had defeated the U. S. Military occupation forces.

She quoted his words in 1950: "If the United Nations tries to appease an aggressor and makes compromises out of fear of an aggressor, the United Nations will die..." and she voiced opposition to any truce which would leave half of Korea to the Chinese Communists.

The serious portion of her speech followed a detailed and often humorous account of how she and her son had joined her husband in Korea after the withdrawal of the military in 1948. The American schools were also withdrawn, and the parents themselves organized the school for the 26 American children and other nationalities. The problems of housekeeping, of obtaining a teaching staff, of supporting the school, and her increasing friendships with the Koreans themselves, from the refugees from North Korea already flooding Seoul to the members of the Seoul Woman's Bureau made up the bulk of her talk.

She and her son left 24 hours after the invasion in 1950 on a fertilizer boat. "We knew that eventually we'd be taken home," she said, "but for our Korean friends home has been a battlefield with half of their country now occupied by Chinese Communists. It is the Chinese who are the ones with whom the United Nations are now willing to deal with about a truce, she charged. She quoted action of the United Nations after the start of the war pledging unification and rehabilitation of Korea.

Mrs. Berrean was introduced by the state president, Mrs. Alexander Groskin, who is also director of the 1953 Leadership Training Session which has been in session since Monday and which closes after lunch at the college today.

A chorus of delegates, directed by Mrs. Frank Coyne, state chairman of music, sang a farewell song.

Yesterday's program, in addition to the regular workshops, included a general session when Raymond H. Koch, superintendent of the Hershey School and state chairman of legislation, presented the Pennsylvania Congress of Parents and Teachers' legislative program voted upon at the

Nancy Shaffer Honored On 13th Birthday

Cherry Lane—Nancy Shaffer, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emily Shaffer, who was 13 years old on June 24, was the guest of honor at a picnic held at the Stroudsburg playgrounds by her family, including Mrs. Bessie Hauser, Mrs. Helen Shaffer, sister Janet and Mrs. Mary Bush, with her five children were also in the group. They were joined later by Nancy's father and William Bush, and enjoyed a swim together at the Ananionim pool along Brodhead's Creek.

On July 1, it was Janet Shaffer's birthday, and again these two family groups got together and enjoyed a picnic supper on the Bush's verandah from which there is a fine view through the Water Gap some dozen miles away, and afterward swimming was again enjoyed. The picnic suppers were enhanced with big birthday cakes and both girls were remembered by friends with cards and gifts.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

I found the delegates to the PTA Training Session in fine form last night, singing the praises of the meals they'd had at the college of the conference itself, and of all the things they were going to tell their own PTA when the meetings started next fall.

But just a little homesick, too, I think they were, in the closing hours of the session, because they'd started talking about their children's progress in school, and their grandchildren's cute sayings.

Speaking of homesick, I don't know which was the most homesick end of that telephone call from Nancy in Chicago last night. "I love my classes, and everybody's wonderful to me and I'm having a lot of fun, and I wish I were home," went her end. "I'm so happy for you and so thrilled at all your wonderful experiences, and how am I going to live for four more weeks?" went mine.

Maybe Howard Williams, new serving in the Navy in California isn't homesick, but he's sure going to be surprised if he reads the social page today to learn that he has a new baby brother, born Monday at the General Hospital, because the announcement in the paper is the first news he's had of it.

Well, home is where the heart is, and the older we get the more we have twinges of homesickness for the bits of our heart that somehow go off on their own, leaving a little aching void even when we're sitting snug by our own fireside.

25th Wedding Anniversary In Biloxi

Mr. and Mrs. George B. Stettler, of East Stroudsburg RD 2, have returned from Biloxi, Miss., where they celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary at the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George J. Stettler and son.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Kintz of Grandview St., East Stroudsburg were also guests at Biloxi.

Their anniversary was marked by the first acquaintance of their grandson, David Ray Stettler, who is five months old. They were presented with a wedding cake decorated with the letters "25th Anniversary". Among their other gifts was a set of silverware from the family.

The Stettlers were married on June 30, 1928 at the East Stroudsburg Methodist church by Rev. Howard B. Slider, Mr. Stettler has always lived in this area, and Mrs. Stettler was originally from Kingston, N. Y.

They have three children, Sgt. George J. Stettler, now stationed at Keesler Air Base, Miss. Audrey Van Buskirk and Elwood at home, and the new grandson.

Teen-Age Republicans At Cramer Home

The Teen-Age Republican Club held its second meeting last night with a membership of 50 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Cramer, Mosier's Knob. John Eaton, president, presided at the business meeting when a constitution and by-laws were adopted.

Committees were appointed, including a membership chairman with Rod Stanard as chairman and including Kathy Gerard, David Gerrity, Frances Mooney, Fred Smith, Michael Fianello, Pat Burnley. Other committees include entertainment, Lowell Fellman, chairman; Patty Litts, Dick Van Why, John Kiffin, Eileen Gisel and Kay Yost; publicity, Nancy Westbrook; ways and means, Walter Peeney, Anne Fleming and Harold Eaton Jr.; refreshments, Pat Burnley, Carole Cramer, Mary Scott and Patty Litts.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Shotwell on Thursday, July 23.

After the business meeting, a teen-age orchestra was organized and played for dancing on the porch overlooking the Delaware. Refreshments were served.

THE Wyckoff SHOPPER

Meeting Olivia Dreher in our center aisle, I was reminded of the outdoor art show to be conducted in Court House Square today and tomorrow by our Pocono Mountains Art Group. One of the most talented members of this distinguished organization, Olivia herself is serving as chairman, so enthusiastic is she, I am willing to recommend it unseen as one of the season's outstanding cultural events.

Similar shows have been held here in former years, I understand, but it has never been my pleasure to attend one. Last year I was in Washington when our Village Green was suddenly transformed into a picturesque version of Bohemia. But I've heard about that show, believe me! I've heard how crowds formed among the easels, ducking in and out around the clotheslines from which the paintings were suspended. I've heard about the friendly arguments that ensued as one self-appointed critic pitted his judgment against another, and I've envied all the purchasers who walked away with truly wonderful bargains, as artists cleared out their studios for a song to make room for more canvases.

My only experience with sidewalk art exhibits occurred several summers back in Kingston, N. Y., when my husband and I parked to see what had attracted the hundreds of people, milling along the main street. I remember being attracted by a painting of tiger lilies in their dazzling, natural beauty, against a background of black. The artist had priced it at $25—and I had that much in my purse, but I decided against the purchase. Maybe, I argued, it would be extravagant. To this day I regret that decision. There was something hauntingly beautiful about the painting... and while the artist was only "somebody's neighbor," I've since seen a great many paintings by famous persons that impressed me less.

No doubt about it, I'm as excited as can be about the open air show, and just as eager as the artists for its success. When it opens, I'll be there cheering. Not just because so many of the canvases, frames, and oils came from our Wyckoff Art Supplies department, but because all Monroe Countians should be sincerely proud of the splendid talent we have here at home.

Necessity may be the mother of invention. But the father of culture is a popular favorite—named ART.

Peoples Coal Uses Big Inning To Blast National Bank, 17-2

Dozen Runs In First Decide Issue

A dozen runs in the first inning carried Peoples Coal, the number one team in the Stroudsburg Little League, to a 17-2 victory over First National Bank, at the circuit's official field last night.

The game was played as part of a "Parents Night" celebration that also featured a cake walk and music by the Peoples Pioneers.

The best part of the present campaign, ran wild in the first inning to register the largest single frame of the current season in the circuit.

The front runners made certain of victory by scoring three times in the third and two tallies in the fourth.

First National Bank reached Paul Fraley, who gave up only four hits, for single runs in the fourth and fifth frames.

Peoples Coal lashed out 14 hits and took advantage of six errors by the bankers to do its damage. First National Bank and Penn-Stroud Hotel, rained out of action on Monday, will play on the same field today at 6:15 p.m.

The winning Lions scored in every inning, pushing eight markers into parlor in the second round and 15 in the fourth.
